EDRN Champion Newsletter #3: EDRN is Full Speed Ahead!

The EDRN team has been working diligently these last few months to further prepare for our implementation later this year. We'd like to thank all of you who have been part of consultations and provided feedback on our demos. We'd like to communicate a few changes to how we will be moving forward:

Welcome to Bev Fair!

Bev Fair has joined the EDRN team as our training lead. Bev brings a wealth of experience in planning and delivering training in both the public and private sectors across Canada. She will be working closely with the project team, and with you, our Champions, to develop, design and deliver training that will be timely and effective, both in advance of EDRN implementation and post-implementation. More on this below. Welcome Bev!

Central EDRN Mail

With the depth and breadth of communications expected to increase as we prepare for training and implementation, we will be moving towards a central mailbox for sending and receiving communications: EDRN@ehealthsask.ca. Please ensure that questions are sent to this mailbox so that they may be triaged and responded to in a timely manner.

Guided Demonstrations Update

Demonstrations sessions were conducted with specific stakeholder groups. Guided demonstrations of the working website in a test environment was conducted tailored to each stakeholder group's specific needs and business scenarios. Participants were invited to ask any questions and share their feedback throughout. Some of this feedback has already been incorporated in design changes and more is anticipated as stakeholders are engaged in User Acceptance testing (details on how to get involved coming shortly). Recordings of these demonstrations were made available to the various stakeholder groups. If you are interested in viewing the recording please contact EDRN@ehealthsask.ca. Sessions available are: Coroners, Medical Informants, MAID program specifically and Funeral Directors.

Thanks again from the EDRN team and we will be in touch soon! In the meantime, please reach out to the team at EDRN@ehealthsask.ca if you have any further questions or ideas.
