

I, the undersigned, understand that MySaskHealthRecord is a secure website enabling Saskatchewan citizens to quickly and easily access their personal health information. A person who is legally responsible for the care and custody of a child under the age of 14 may request access to the child's MySaskHealthRecord.

eHealth must verify I am legally responsible for the care and custody of the child prior to granting access to personal health information. Unless otherwise ordered by a court, if the parents of a child have never cohabited after the birth of the child, or if the parents of a child have entered into an agreement related to custody of the child, then pursuant to The Children's Law Act, 1997, the parents of a child are presumed to be joint legal custodians of the child with equal rights, powers and duties. If I am not the parent of the child or if the child is the subject of a custody arrangement, I may be required to submit additional documentation to show that I am authorized to request access to the child's personal health information.

Personal health information on this form is collected under the authority of The Health Information Protection Act (HIPA). This information will only be used by eHealth to ensure accuracy, confirm identity, and authenticate this request. Personal health information is protected from unauthorized use and disclosure in accordance with HIPA, and may only be collected, used and disclosed as provided by HIPA.

Section 3: Information related to proof of parentage/guardianship and declaration
The definition of a person who is legally responsible for the care and custody of the minor may not extend to the biological parents of a child in all circumstances. A court order or agreement between the biological parents can give custody to only one of the biological parents. A child could also have other guardians who are not biological parents such as a child's grandparent or other relative or other individual who has been granted a guardianship order by the Court. eHealth therefore must take reasonable steps to ensure the applicant is the legal guardian of the child and one of those steps is to request legal documentation related to the legal custody of the child in question. You are required to submit proof of parentage/guardianship. For example, long-form birth certificate, adoption order, or guardianship order.
