Patient Results

When patient results, including sensitive result information, are available in provincial repositories, that data will be available for providers in the Electronic Health Record Viewer (eHR Viewer). When applicable, those results will also be displayed in the patient's MySaskHealthRecord with no delays. Exceptions to this include a 4-day delay to all pathology results.

In order to ensure a user-friendly experience, MySaskHealthRecord features multiple tools to help patients better understand their results and other information. MySaskHealthRecord includes a disclaimer to notify the patient that their results may not be final and will require the interpretation of their health care provider.

Please note, patients cannot delete or modify any of the provincially sourced information displayed in MySaskHealthRecord.

Provider Responsibilities

MySaskHealthRecord is not intended to create any additional responsibilities to providers, but act as a tool that patients can use to view, monitor, and track their personal health information in a way that may benefit their health care experience. MySaskHealthRecord may help patients better understand their health conditions and optimize their appointments with health care providers by allowing them to prepare in advance.
